* The seller can deliver the goods to the buyer: (1) when the named place is the seller's premises, and the goods are considered delivered when they are loaded onto the means of transport provided by the buyer; or (2) when after having been loaded onto the buyer's transport, then reach the named other place, and are at the disposal of the carrier or another person as nominated by the buyer.

 Buyer should pay unloading costs, unless such costs are for the seller's account, per the contract of carriage.
